COLD WAR CONTINUES

When Mad magazine launched its 'Spy vs. Spy' column in 1960, one of the characters was a Soviet spy. The room, high-tech electronic gadgetry is now available to some people and others.

Effects of Sputnik on United States

Atomic Anxieties:

• “Duck-and-Cover Generation”

Atomic Testing:

• Between July 16, 1945 and Sept. 23, 1992, the United States conducted 1,054 official nuclear tests, most of them at the Nevada Test Site.

Americans began building underground bomb shelters and cities had underground fallout shelters.

Desert Research Institute

• Between 1949 and 1963, the United States and Soviet Union conducted more than 100 above ground nuclear weapons tests.

• Limited Test Ban Treaty in 1963 banned all above-ground testing sending nuclear tests underground.

• On Oct. 26, 1963 at the Shoal underground nuclear test site 1,204 feet below the surface a nuclear detonation conducted in the Sand Springs Mountain Range about 30 miles southeast of Fallon, Nevada.

• Produced a yield of 12.5 kilotons and analyzed seismic detection of underground nuclear tests in active earthquake areas.

• The veiled purpose of the experiment may have been to discern the difference between Russian earthquakes and Russian nuclear testing.

U-2 Spy Incident (1960)

Col. Francis Gary Powers' plane was shot down over Soviet airspace.

U-2 SPY PLANE

• On May 1, 1960, a U.S. U-2 high altitude reconnaissance aircraft was shot down over central Russia, forcing its pilot, Gary Powers, to bail out at 15,000 feet.

• The CIA-employed pilot survived the parachute jump and was picked up by the Soviet authorities, who arrested him.

• On May 5, Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev announced the capture of the U.S. spy, and vowed that he would be put on trial.

• After initial denials, U.S. President Dwight D. Eisenhower admitted on May 7 that the unarmed reconnaissance aircraft was indeed on a spy mission.

• In response, Khrushchev cancelled a long-awaited summit meeting in Paris, and in August, Powers was sentenced to ten years in a Soviet prison for his confessed espionage.

• However, a year-and-a-half later, on February 10, 1962, the Soviets released him in exchange for Rudolph Abel, a Soviet spy caught and convicted in the United States five years earlier.

• Led to the Berlin Wall being built and the Cold War “heating up again”
